

050:301:02/227

19th Century American Literature and Culture

This course is intended to give students a broad experience of nineteenth-century American literature and culture. It will focus on the concept of the "American Renaissance": what fits and what doesn't--and why. How, for example, do race, gender, and class intersect with literary texts.